ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce J. A. BELL,
At a meeting to be held in the next General Assembly, Subject to the action of the temperate party.

SENATOR HENRY W. BROWN, whose name of office, expired last night at midnight, has been appointed Minister to China, much to the gratification of himself.

HARRY POOLE, a dashing young gentleman of Rockport, Ind., was arrested at Owosso, charged with the seduction of Miss Allie Woolley, a former schoolmate. As usual, he accomplished her ruin under promise of subsequent marriage.

The Bowling Green Democrat is issued an extra illustrated edition in honor of the opening of Green river to free navigation. It was a full four pages in size and was full from front to last of advertisements of a passing and attractive nature. Bowling Green and Evansville were both represented and illustrated. It was a fine sample of intelligent enterprise.

SENATOR HEARST, of California, died in Washington City, Saturday.
He had been ill for several weeks, but had repeatedly said he would live to help kill the Force bill. Senator Hearst was a very poor, but a bust man. His life was a mischievous life in California, and was wasteful in his mining ventures, amassing a considerable fortune. He was a Democrat, but his successor will be a Republican, as California went Republican last fall when the world went Democratic.

The Census Bureau figures up the population of 1858, 1865, divided as follows: Whites, 1, 585,320; colored, 272,381; Indians, 98; Chinese, 29; Japanese, 1. The Indians are to be found in the following tribes: Bell, 2; Cherokee, 1; Choctaw, 1; Creek, 1; Hitchiti, 1; Choctaw, 1; Laurel, 4; Livingston, 8; Logan, 9; and the remainder scattered over the State. The largest county is Jefferson, with a population of 188, 576, while the smallest is Leslie, with a population of 3,967. Ohio county is given 21,580 whites and 1, 322 colored citizens, and the fourteenth in point of population.

The Direct tax bill has passed Congress and will become a law.
The bill provides that before any State can get the money due to it under the provisions of this bill, the Legislature will give the Governor a certificate to sign in full so that all accounts may be closed up. The amounts to be received by the several States are as follows:

Alabama, $22,520; Arkansas, $54,701;

California, $22,975; Colorado, $22,169;

Delaware, $70,332; District of Columbia, $8,437; Florida, $24,261; Georgia, $839,144; Iowa, $8,214; Kansas, $8,436;

Kentucky, $10,411; Louisiana, $8,436;

Maine, $8,436; Maryland, $8,436;

Massachusetts, $70,000; Michigan, $87,295; Minnesota, $8,436;

Mississippi, $11,232; North Carolina, $8,436;

Ohio, $22,366; Missouri, $8,436;

New Jersey, $22,366; New Mexico, $8,436; New York, $22,366; North Carolina, $8,436; Oregon, $29,861; Pennsylvania, $29,861; West Virginia, $8,436;

Virginia, $29,861; Washington, $2,365; Wisconsin, $8,436; West Virginia, $8,436.

HERBERT SNYDER and Miss Callie Rayburn, two students who were at teaching school at Phenixville, Herkimer county, eloped and were married at Jeffersonville Saturday. Snyder is a graduate of the Phenixville High School, and the girl is the language of the irreducible reporter, the girl was young enough to be spanked. Snyder got drunk and was arrested for that crime in Jeffersonville before he could get married, and placed in the lockup to sober up, he was called from the pleasure of his farm life to try his hand at legislation. For years, Ohio county has sent only farmers to represent her in the Legislature, Kinzeling being one notable exception, and he was elected on the sympathy of the people had for him when he was defeated by Pendleton for the office of Considerate Attorney.

How is it in other offices? The people of Ohio county, who have have some enough to keep company.
Parents who have no more consideration for their girls than to let them go with whomever they please and the absence of the regular teacher, and pursued the child school girl to elope with him. They were both children who had not been trained right at home. The girl boasted that she had been engaged twice before.

The social curse of this age is the result of the lack of training and the want of proper guidance.

GRANT WALLACE DROWNED.

Three Young Men Go Out Duck Hunting and One is Brought Back a Corpse.

DEATH OF A KENTUCKY GIANT.

The body of Grant Wallace, who was drowned near West Point, Saturday afternoon, was brought to Rosine Sunday and buried at the Mt. Pleasant graveyard, Rosine, on Monday afternoon. The remains were accompanied by Clinton Curley, who was with Wallace at the time of his drowning. Grant Wallace was a son of Mr. Samuel Wallace, who lives in this country, between Rosine and Selma, but was working with Charley Curley on the N. N. & M. V. road. The last place they were stationed was at West Point. They did not work on the road, but would go to a camp hunting exhibition. The Courier-Journal of Sunday gives the following account of the drowning:

"A Kentucky giant was drowned in the Ohio river a few miles this side of West Point, Saturday afternoon. His name was Grant Wallace. He measured six feet and ten inches in height. The coffin which was shipped for him was made by W. G. & C. Co., who were engaged in the coffin business at West Point. It was one of the largest ever made in this city, and except that used for the remains of the famous Jim Porter, it has rarely been surpassed here in size and weight."

Wallace was a railroad man.

He was in charge of a crew of men employed by the N. N. & M. V. railroad when he met his death. Wallace's home was at Grant Wallace, Ind.

He was a giant in size, and was one of the largest ever made in this city, and except that used for the remains of the famous Jim Porter, it has rarely been surpassed here in size and weight."

In company with two others, Wallace hired a skiff and went a short distance up the river duck hunting. The party had been on the water about an hour and when the boat struck a rock, it was capsized in a twinkling.

The three young men strove hard to keep the boat afloat, but were unable to do so, and the boat sank.

Wallace, who was a swimmer, swam to the surface, and tried to rescue his companions.

They were skinned rapidly onward, and would probably have lost their lives, but for the assistance of a farmer who saw the accident.

On account of the darkness of the night, he was unable to get to the boat, and in this he was not rowing rapidly to their assistance. They had gotten into a swift current, and the farmer had to row several hundred yards before he succeeded in pulling the boat to the shore.

"After recalling the circumstances of the accident, the young men remembered Wallace, and they assisted in pulling the skiff ashore. The boat had been overturned, and the body of Wallace was entangled in a drift of brush, slabs, etc., in the road and fell, throwing the Doctor and very seriously injur ing him in his lower limb. However, as we are, are glad to learn, impre ssive of his recovery.

The man was prostrated, and the procession proceeded to West Point.

Coroner J. J. Fischer was notified, and after the inquest returned a verdict in the case of drowning.

Wynatt & Cralls, of this city, were notified by telephone to make the coffin, which was shipped to West Point last night.

The body was not only badly mangled, but he was also overweight, and the grave was filled with water.

He was skinned rapidly onward, and would probably have lost his life, but for the assistance of a farmer who saw the accident.

On account of the darkness of the

night, he was unable to get to the

the boat to the shore.

"The body was skinned rapidly onward,

who saw the accident.
